Constitution Staff Writer.

GORDON STADIUM, BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11 .- Before a sun-baked crowd of upwards of 25,000 Georgians, President Roosevelt declared open war on the conservative wing of the Democratic party.

With an attack that was always slashing and always spirited, he called for the defeat of Senator Walter F. George, a conservative, and for the election of United States Attorney Lawrence Camp, an avowed liberal.

In so doing, he plunged Georgia into a political maelstrom destined to draw the attention of the entire nation and to make the state's Democratic primary the decisive battle of the most important intra-party conflict of a generation. September 14 will provide the Waterloo. Who will be cast in the role of Wellington and who in the role of Napoteon will not be known until the ballots are counted."

"Would Vote for Camp."

The President fired the opening gun when he told the crowd here today that if he voted in Georgia "I most assuredly would vote for Lawrence Camp."

Leaving nothing to the imagination. Mr. Roosevelt hailed Senator George as his personal friend, calling him a "gentleman and a scholar." but added "I am compelled to make it clear that he and I do not speak the same language."

It was a speech in which he didn't buil any punches. It laid down the issue, clear-cut. There can be no mistaking what the war is all about.

Challenge Accepted.

Senator George, who sat on the platform almost impassive throughout the President's rasping attack, was on his feet the moment the chief executive finished. He put forward his hand. Without hesitation and without bitterness, he accepted the challenge. Equally without hesitation and without bitterness, the President shook the hand of the man he had just made the generalissimo of the forces on which his war is centered.

'Mr. President," Senator George said calmly, "I regret that you have taken this occasion to question my democracy and to attack my public record.

"I want you to know that I accept the challenge." The entire group on the platform about the two men was in confusion. The earnestness of the two men was written on their faces.

"God bless you, Walter," the President replied. "Let's always be friends."

Thousands out in front of the platform stood stunned. They had known in advance what was to happen. Yet when it did happen they seemed overcome by the dramatic intensity of it all.

Whip Is Cracked.

But from sources close to the President and others drawn into the picture, it was established definitely that from now on all elements of the New Deal are supposed to do their bit for Camp. How well this group was whipped into line remains to be seen. It was learned, however, that during the two-day, foray the President had conversations with Governor Rivers Miss Gay B. Shepperson, the WPA administrator; Marion H. Allen, collector of internal revenue and the Roosevelt Georgia pre-convention campaign manager in 1936; Edgar B. Dunlap,

COOK BOOK OFFER GAINS IN INTEREST

Widespread Comment Follows News of The Constitution's Prize Gift.

President Roosevelt's visit was not the only concern of Georgia women yesterday.

Mounting interest in The Constitution's movement to make America's Cook Book—the complete encyclopedia of the culinary art—available to Georgia mothers and home-makers without money cost is being shown throughout the

Two six-month subscriptions to The Constitution, quickly obtained through order blanks published in The Constitution, or available at the publication offices, are all that is necessary.

While the book cannot be given as a premium, The Constitution will purchase America's Cook Book and present it to any person who obtains the two six-month subscriptions.

The retail price of $2.50, at which America's Cook Book has become a best-seller, cannot be reduced. But the book can be earned without cost under The Constitution's offer.

Modern Cook Book Delights Prominent Wesleyan Alumna

It's Time for New Recipes, Mrs. Charles J. Haden Declares.

Pointing out that times have changed and that the cook books of the past have lost their value, Mrs. Charles J. Haden, past president of the National Alum-nae Association of Wesleyan College, declares that America's cook book is a necessary part of the household equipment of the modern housewife. "Now is the time to get a new cook book," Mrs. Haden, a most successful hostess, declares. "If your shelf of cook books looks like mine it is time to get a new one. With leaves torn, with scraps of copied recipes pinned in, and with one much mutil-ated old book known in our grandmother's time as 'The Hill Cook Book'—there is no escaping the conclusion that, to be up to date, a new cook book

(and by that I mean America's Cook Book) is needed.

"I am quite willing to make obeisance to the past and say that (for its day) none could surpass the much-revered 'Hill Cook Book.' But that day is over The modern businesses. over. The modern housekeeper could never make use of it.

"Vitamins were not then known, except in the quantity of good things used in each recipe. Just as the big old rambling house had its kitchen in an 'L' off from the dining room—so the recipes of those days merely began with a pound of butter and a dozen eggs as the requisite for a cake or waffles. Things just aren't done that way anymore.

"The present kitchen is modern, convenient. It is in the close space often near the main living room, and is given the same thoughtful decorator's care as the rest of the house. eration of that new kitchen must be modern. It is necessary "In other words, the kitchen and dining table have grown up, and to keep pace with developments the housewife—young or old—experienced or not—needs America's Cook Book."

Sisters, Parted For 35 Years, Meet at Rome

ROME, Ga., Aug. 11.-Two sisters, Mrs. Rita James, of Rome, and Mrs. W. E. Wardlow, of East Alton, Ill., were reunited here to-day after having been separated

35 years.
The reunion was brought about after Mrs. Wardlow had spent al-most a week of her vacation trip the attention of President Roosefollowing clues in Tennessee, northeast Alabama and northwest Georgia. She had set out with her son, J. C., and daughter, Mrs. Mildred Euerr, on their vacation trip to find Mrs. James.

The two sisters, who were separated when Mrs. Wardlow was a 14-year-old girl and Mrs. James a young married woman, were almost speechless with excitement when Mrs. Wardlow first arrived, unannounced, at her sister's home.

They lost trace of each other when they moved from their old home place at Bethel Springs, Tenn., Mrs. Wardlow moving to Illinois with another sister and Mrs. James moving to Alabama. A forwarding address left with a stmaster in an Alabama town led to a successful end of the search by Mrs. Wardlow.

Since the Wardlows' vacation is nearly over, the reunion was to last only one day.

Native Georgian Was Widely Known as Typhoid Specialist.

Dr. Luth H. Cartledge, 82, of 640 Evans street, S. W., a retired physician and believed to be the oldest living graduate of the old Southern Medical College, died yesterday morning in a private hospital after a lengthy illness.

A native of Franklin county, Dr. Cartledge came to Atlanta in 1908. He graduated from the medical college on March 1, 1882, and friends here believe he was the last surviving member of the class. He was widely known at one time as a 'yphoid specialist.

At one time he was an active Mason and was a member of the Presbyterian church. For the past several years, Dr. Cartledge had been in failing health and was honored recently over a local radio program for "shut-ins."

MISTRIAL DECLARED

Judge Grice Continues Case of Third Defendant, Osborne Newton.

SYLVANIA, Ga., Aug. 11.—(AP) Judge J. T. Grice declared a mistrial today in the trial of Lonnie Lanier for the slaying of wealthy Charlie Daughtry near his Rocky Ford home last September. He then continued with trial of Osborne Newton in the same slaying. Lanier's trial was halted when the jury indicated it could not agree. A member of one jury-man's family was seriously ill and the judge polled them on possi-bility of a verdict. Trial of Osborne Newton was begun when the Lanier jury went out to consider their case.

Solicitor General W. C. Neville said another judge would sit for the remainder of the trials in the slaying. He did not name the judge. Four other defendants await trial: Albert Cobb, Savan-nah lawyer; Joe Newton, Bloom-ingdale merchant; Ralph Newton, son, negro, star witness for the John Burns, first man tried, was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment two weeks ago.

The board of trustees of Arnoldsville High school, Oglethorpe county, applied for $6,177 to aid in the construc-tion of a school to cost $13,727, while a request of $924 was received from Worth county district No. 2 to help in the erection of a school addition at Warwick at a cost of $2,054.

McDuffie county applied for $6,543 to finance alterations and additions to the courthouse at Thomson. The work is estimated to cost $14,543.

WORK TO BEGIN ON PRISON HOUSES

Work is expected to begin soon on four residences at the Atlanta federal penitentiary under terms of the contract allotting funds for prison work during the fiscal year beginning July 1, according to an announcement made at the Treasury Department at Washington yesterday. The building program is expected to get under way by Monday.

Under the project, $57,500 was allocated for the residences and $130,000 for the construction of a receiving building and officers raining quarters.

THREE IMPROVEMENTS ARE AUTHORIZED

Authorization of road, street and sewerage improvement projects in three Georgia communities was announced yesterday by Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state WPA administrator. The program calls for an expenditure of $75,115, of which mount $21,253 will be furnished by sponsors.

The projects include road improvements in Lumpkin county at a total cost of $33,751; improve-ments to the sewerage and water ments to the sewerage and water system at Marietta, at a cost of $26.855, and street improvements in Powder Springs, Cobb county, at an estimated cost of $14,510.

TWO YEARS AGO when the Rural Electrification Administra-L tion (REA) was first making itself felt as a force for good; the Georgia Power Company in a newspaper advertisement publicly offered its cooperation to the REA and to the Georgia cooperatives organized under the REA plan.

For years before then we had been vigorously carrying forward our own rural electrification program - and that work still goes forward. But we knew that the federal government, with millions of dollars at its command, could build the additional rural lines faster and farther than we could. And so, for AN ELECTRIFIED GEOR-GIA, we offered our help.

That public pledge has been backed up by actual deeds. In some instances, our engineers have made the preliminary surveys for Georgia REA cooperatives. In others, our field representatives have aided rural groups in getting organized, and our home service girls have helped farm wives to learn to use their new appliances advan-

We are not seeking to take more credit to ourselves than is due. We have merely joined with other organizations and individuals to help wherever we could, in whatever way we could, and we have considered ourselves honored that so many groups of farmers and their leaders have wanted us to help. These services to the REA cooperatives we have given without charge, and we now renew our offer of these services FREE to other cooperatives.

We have helped in this movement because it offers outstanding benefits to Georgia, and the tradition of the Georgia Power Company is that we help in ANY movement for the good of Georgia. We have helped also for sound and solid business reasons. In these hard times, we need all the business we can get, and we are grateful to the federal government and the REA for having broadened the market for electric power in Georgia.

Seventeen of the Georgia REA cooperatives are now obtaining their electric power supply from us (at advantageously low rates). We thus regard them not only as good friends but valued customers.

For all of these reasons, we are proud that the first REA cooperative in the United States to be dedicated by the President of the United States is in Georgia. Our congratulations to the Lamar Electric Membership Corporation and to the people of Barnesville. Sincere good wishes also for the success of your venture in extending electric service to previously unserved farms.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE

Mr. President . .

Here is good news of electrical progressiveness in your adopted

IN addition to aiding the REA operatives, the Georgia Power Company has now built 4,033 miles of rural lines of its own and is now serving 46,000 rural electric consumers at exactly the same low rates as we offer in the heart of Atlanta.

In very few other states can the villages and farms buy their electricity as cheaply as the big cities. This uniformity of rates, plus the lowness of our rates, explains why Georgia ranked lowest in the nation in the price of electric service in communities of less than 1,000 population, in a recent survey by the Federal Power

Georgia homes and farms served by this Company are now buying their electricity at an average price of 2.9 cents a kilowatt hour. The national average is 4.3 cents.

Among the states, Georgia continues to rank FIRST EAST OF THE ROCKIES in the use of electricity in the home.

Homes, urban and rural, served by this Company now use an average of 1,372 kilowatt hours of electricity a year. The national average is 872.

These records have been made despite the fact that the 161,000 rural and urban homes served by this Company's electric lines are scattered over an area of 44,000 square miles. We serve 545 Georgia cities, towns, villages and hamlets; and only eight of them have populations of more than 10,000. A total of 448 have populations of less than 1,000.

Electrically speaking, Georgia is setting the pace for the nation! Already Georgia is far ahead of many wealthy communities in the East and North, both in the cheapness of electric service and in its widespread use by women in the home, by farmers and by industrial workers. But we are not satisfied with the progress already made. We recognize electricity's important role in the advancement of human welfare. And we will ever strive, in the future as in the past, to hasten the day when our state will truly be -

General View of Throng Gathered To Hear the Speech of President Roosevelt at Barnesville REA Dedication

GEORGE WELCOMED AFTER F.D.R. SPEECH

'We Have Just Begun to Fight,' Senator Tells Throng.

Brass bands played and ban-ners flew on Peachtree street late yesterday in a rousing welcome for Senator Walter F. George, returning to Atlanta from Barnesville.

Earlier in the day he sat on a platform in Barnesville and heard President Roosevelt assail his pub-Appearing unruffled by the barrage of presidential fire on his arrival here at 6:40 o'clock last night, the senior senator stood on a hotel balcony and told the crowd that had assembled to greet him: "We have just begun to fight.

The Democratic party is not a one-man party, but a party for the great rank and file of American men and women who love justice, liberty, equal rights for all and special privileges for no one."

Ready To Fight. "I am confident that the Georgia people are ready to fight this thing through to a finish and prove that we in Georgia are capable and determined to run our own affairs.

"I want to thank you for your voluntary presence here and I have every confidence that the events of today have cleared the last remaining doubt as to the verdict of the people of Georgia September 14."

The senior senator prefaced his brief remarks by repeating a statement he said he made to the President immediately following the Barnesville speech:

"Mr. President, I regret that you have taken this occasion to question my democracy and attack my public record. I want you to know I accept the challenge.'

Crowd Forms. Less than an hour after conclusion of President Roosevelt's Barnesville address, an impromptu address system to crowds in the gaped from street car and bus crowd had formed at the Henry hotel lobby and on Peachtree windows and alighted to join in crowd had formed at the Henry Grady hotel campaign headquarters of Senator George to welcome

Eager crowds awaited Senator George last night as he stepped out of an automobile and into a downtown hotel, following President Roosevellt's speech at Barnesville. The senator is shown, hand on hat, leaving his car to make his way through the crowds that jammed both sides of Peachtree street. Under the straw hat to the right of Senator George is Mayor Hartsfield, who accompanied Sen ator George on the return trip from Barnesvillle.

TEXT OF THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH AT BARNESVILLE

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Here is the text of President Roosevelt's address today:

Governor Rivers, Senator George, Senator Russell, and you, my neighbors, of Georgia:

I am glad to come back to Barnesville, and the next time I come to Georgia I hope we will have a good road between here and Warm Springs. But though I have been here before, today is the first time that I learned that Dick Russell came here to college and I must say rt it must be a pretty good college.

Fourteen years ago a Democratic Yankee came to a neighboring county in your state in search of a pool of warm water wherein he might swim his way back to health. The place—Warm Springs was a rather dilapidated small summer resort. His new neighbors extended to him the hand of genuine hospitality, welcomed him to their firesides and made him feel so much at home that he built himself a house, bought himself a farm and has been coming back ever since. And he proposes to keep to that good custom. I intend to keep on coming back.

There was only one discordant note in that first stay of mine at Warm Springs; when the first of the month bills came in for electric light for my little cottage, I found that the charge was 18 cents per kilowatt hour—about four times as much as I paid in Hyde Park, N. Y. That started my long study of proper public utility charges for electricity and the whole subject of getting electricity into farm homes throughout the United States.

LITTLE WARM SPRINGS COTTAGE

BIRTHPLACE OF REA PROJECTS. So it can be said that a little cottage at Warm Springs, Ga., was the birthplace of the Rural Electrification Administration. Six years ago there was much talk of the more widespread and cheaper use of electricity but it is only since March 4, 1933, that your government has reduced that talk to practical results. Electricity is a modern necessity of life and ought to be found in every village, every home and every farm in every part of the United States. The dedication of this Rural Electrification Administration project in Georgia today is a symbol of the progress we are making-are not going to stop.

One month ago I invited a group of distinguished, broadminded southerners to meet in Washington to discuss the economic conditions of the south. I said to them: "My intimate interest in all that concerns the south is, I believe, known to all of you; but this interest is far more than a sentimental attachment born of a considerable residence in your section and of close personal friendship for so many of your people. It proceeds even more from my feeling of responsibility toward the whole na-It is my conviction that the south presents right now the nation's No. 1 economic problem—the nation's problem, not merely the south's. For we have an economic unbalance in the nation as a whole, due to this very condition of the south.

"It is an unbalance that can and must be righted, for the sake of the south and of the nation,'

Yesterday I received the report and the recommendations based on their advice—and these will be made public in the course of the next day or two. I commend a careful reading of this document

REPORT CONCERNED PRIMARILY WITH THE NEEDS OF THE SOUTH.

It is well said that this report "presents in only a small degree the manifold assets and advantages possessed by the south" because the report is concerned primarily not with what the south has but with what the south needs. It is a short report divided into 15 sec-tions and it covers in a broad way subjects of vital importance, such as economic resources, soil, water, population, private and public income, education, health, housing, labor, ownership and use of land credit, use of natural resources, industry and purchasing power.

The very fact that it is necessary to divide the economics of the south into 15 important groups—each one a problem in itself—proves to you and to me that if you and I are to cover the ground effectively there is no one simple answer. It is true that many obvious needs ought to be attained quickly—such as the reduction of dis-criminatory freight rates, such as putting a floor under industrial wages, such as continuing to raise the purchasing power of the farm population, but no one of these things, no combination of a few of them will meet the whole of the problem. We cannot capture one hill and claim to have won the battle because the battle front extends over thousands of miles and we must push forward along the whole length of its front.

TYPES OF POLITICAL LEADERSHIP DANGEROUS TO BROAD PROGRESS.

That is why the longer I live the more am I convinced that there e two types of political leadership which are dangerous to the continuation of broad economic and social progress all along the long battle front. The first type of political leadership which is dangerous to progress is represented by the man who harps on one or two remedies or proposals and claims that these one or two remedies will cure all our ills. The other is represented by the man who says that he is in favor of progress, but whose record shows that he hinders or hampers new measures. He tells his friends that he does not like this, that or the other detail and, at the same time, he utterly fails to offer a substitute that is practical or worth while

The task of meeting the economic and social needs of the south on the broad front that is absolutely necessary, calls for public servants whose hearts are sound, whose heads are sane—whose hands are strong, striving everlastingly to better the lot of their

This, then, is the synopsis—a clear listing of the economic and social problems, of the southland. It suggests the many steps that must be taken to solve the problems,

Some of these steps, it is true, can be taken by state governments, but you will readily realize that action by the states alone even if such action could be simultaneously and immediately obtained, would be wholly inadequate. The reason is that most of these problems involved interstate relationship not only between the of this region but between each and all of these states and the rest of the nation.

NATIONAL ASPECT OF PROBLEM REQUIRES FEDERAL DIRECTION.

It is not an attack on state sovereignty to point out that this national aspect of all these problems requires action by the federa government. I do not hesitate to say from a long experience that during the past five years there has been a closer and more effective peacetime co-operation between the governors of the states and the President of the United States than at any other time in our whole national history.

And I acknowledge the obligation on my part for the splendid co-operation of Governor Rivers, of Georgia.

You are familiar enough with the processes of government to know that the chief executive cannot take action on national or regional problems unless they have been first translated into acts of congress passed by the senate and the house of representatives.

Such action by the congress, it is equally clear, must be vigorously supported by the senators and representatives whose constituents are directly concerned with southern economics and southern social needs. Senators and congressmen who are not wholeheartedly in sympathy with these needs cannot be expected to give them vigorous support.

Translating that into more intimate terms, it means that if the ple of the state of Georgia want definite action in the congress of the United States, they must send to that congress senators and representatives who are willing to stand up and fight-fight night and day for federal statutes drawn to meet actual needsthing which serves merely to gloss over the evils for the time being, but laws with teeth in them which go to the root of the problems; which remove the inequalities, raise the standards and, over a period CLAIMS GEORGE AS FRIEND of years, give constant improvement to the conditions of human life WITH WHOM HE DIFFERS.

DECISION TO GIVE HIS OPINION OF COMING SENATORIAL PRIMARY.

You, the people of Georgia, in the coming senatorial primary, for example, have a perfect right to choose any candidate you wish. I do not seek to impair that right—but because Georgia has been good enough to call me her adopted son and because for many long years I have regarded Georgia as my "other state," I feel no hesitation in telling you what I would do if I could vote here next month. I am strengthened in that decision to give you my personal opinion of the coming senatorial primary by the fact that during the past few weeks I have had many requests from distinguished citizens of Georgia—from people high and low—from the chief justice of the highest court of Georgia and from many, many others. Let me preface my statement by saying that I have personally known three of the candidates for the United States senate for many years. All of them have had legislative or executive experience as government servants. We may justly, also, seek to determine for what is their inward point of view in relationship to present and future problems of government.

It has been pointed out by writers and speakers who do not analyze public questions very deeply that in passing through the state of Kentucky a month ago I gave as a reason for the re-election of Senator Barkley that he had had very long and successful service in the congress of the United States and that his opponent did not have that experience. In Kentucky, there was no clear-cut issue between a liberal on the one side and a dyed-in-the-wool conservative on the other. Neither gentleman on his record could be classified as a reactionary, therefore the criterion of experience, especially that of the majority leadership of the senate of the United States, weighed heavily in favor of Senator Barkley.

Here in Georgia, however, my friend, the senior senator from this state, cannot possibly in my judgment be classified as belonging to the liberal school of thought—and, therefore, the argument that he has long served in the senate falls by the wayside.

ISSUE IN GEORGIA DIFFERENT FROM THAT IN KENTUCKY.

Here in Georgia the issue is a different one from that in Kentucky. I speak seriously and in a most friendly way in terms of liberal and conservative, for the very simple fact that on my shoulders rests a responsibility to the people of this country. Twice have been chosen chief executive with the mandate to seek by definite action to correct many evils of the past and of the present; to work for a wider distribution of national income, to improve the conditions of life, especially among those who need it most, and above all to use every honest effort to keep America in the van of social and economic progress.

To the congress I make recommendations—in most cases recommendations relating to objectives—leaving it to the congress to translate the recommendations into law. The majority of the senate and house have agreed with those objectives and have worked with me and I have worked with them to translate those objectives into action, some have given "lip service" to some of the objectives but have not raised their little fingers actively to attain the action itself. Too often these few have listened to the dictatorship of the small minority of individuals and corporations who oppose the objectives themselves. That is a real dictatorship and one which we have been getting away from slowly but surely during the past five years. As long as I live you will find me fighting against any kind of dictatorship—especially that kind which has enslaved millions of our people for more than half a century.

What I am about to say will be no news to my old friend, and I say it with utmost sincerity. Senator Walter George, because I have recently had personal correspondence with him and, as a result of

Let me make it clear that he is, and I hope always will be, personal friend. He is beyond question a gentleman and a schigt—but so also are other gentlemen for whom I have an affections regard but with whom I differ heartily and sincerely on the property of the United States sho ciples and policies of how the government of the United States sh be directed.

For example, I have long acquaintance and great personal fries worth, of New York, and the minority leader, Representative Wa worth, of these life-long Republicans are gentlemen and scholars, they and I learned long ago that our views on public questions w as wide apart as the poles.

Therefore, I repeat that I trust that Senator George and I always be good personal friends even though I am impelled to mit clear that on most public questions he and I do not speak the sa language.

To carry out my responsibility as President it is clear that th should be co-operation between members of my own party myself. That is one of the essentials of a party form of governm It has been going on in this country for nearly a century and a h The test is not measured, in the case of an individual, by his ev vote on every bill. The test lies rather in two questions: First the record of the candidate shown, while differing perhaps in a constant active fighting attitude in favor of the broad objection of the party and of the government as they are constituted to and secondly does the candidate really in his heart helicate in and secondly does the candidate really, in his heart, believe in objectives? I regret that in the case of my friend, Senator Geor cannot answer either of these questions in the affirmative.

In the case of another candidate for the United States senat Ex-Governor Eugene Talmadge-I have known him in Georgia many years. His attitude toward me and toward other member the government in 193° and 1936 concerns me not at all, but I read so many of his proposals, so many of his promises, so ma his panaceas that I am very certain in my own mind that his tion would contribute little to practical government. That is can say about him.

REGARDS LAWRENCE CAMP AS AN ABLE PUBLIC SERVANT.

United States Attorney Lawrence Camp I have also known many years. He has had experience in the state legislature, he served as attorney general of Georgia, and for four years he made a distinguished record in the United States district court, office ranking among the first two in the whole nation in the ex dition of federal cases before that court. I regard him not only a public servant with successful experience but as a man who hestly believes that many things must be done and done now to prove the economic and social conditions of the country and is will to fight for these objectives. That is of the utmost importance Therefore, answering the requests from many citizens of Geor that I make my position clear, I have no hesitation in saying that I were able to vote in the September primaries in this state I m assuredly would cast my vote for Lawrence Camp.

In dedicating this project, I want to express my abiding fa that we as a nation are moving steadily and surely toward a bet way of living for all of the people. This electrification project a symbol of our determination to attain that objective. But it only one symbol; it is one hill out of ten thousand You and I will never be satisfied until all econor inequalities are corrected, until every one of us, north, east, west a south have the opportunity so to live that his education, his job his home will be secure.

In many countries democracy is under attack by those who char that democracy fails to provide its people the needs of modern civication. I do not—and you do not—subscribe to that charge. We have lieve that democracy today is succeeding but that a necessity its future success is the fighting spirit of the American people—the insistence that we go forward and not back.

STADIUM IS CITED AS AID EVIDENCE

Senator Russell Calls Attention to Fact It Was Once Swamp.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11 .-Standing in the Gordon Memorial stadium which a few years ago was a swamp, United States Senator Richard B. Russell today called attention to the "conclusive evidence of the permanent values we have received from the national program of useful building and recovery.

Acting as master of ceremonies at the dedication of the Lamar rural electrification project, Rus-sell introduced Governor Rivers, John M. Carmody, REA administrator, and Mrs. Virginia Polhill Price, Georgia national Democratic committeewoman, who spoke on the program with President

It is needless to recount to those assembled here the dramatic story of how he forged into instrumentalities of dynamic progress tools which had been useless in other hands, and brought order out of chaos and replaced despair with vigorous hope.'

Close to Heart.
Russell said no phase of the broad governmental program had been closer to the President's heart than bringing electrical power to farm homes of America.

The fact that women will benefit most from rural electrification was stressed by Carmody, spoke briefly preceding the President's speech.

"There's a book which has the title, 'Life Begins at Forty,' said 'But in the rural sections, life begins when electricity comes Carmody said: "No President ever had a sharper grasp of the "hlen" than President Roose-

By STAFF CORRESPONDENT. GORDON STADIUM, BARNESVILLE, Aug. 11.—Governor Rivers, who yesterday announced a hands-off policy in the senate race, strongly reiterated his support of President Roosevelt in presenting the chief executive to the REA dedication throng here this afternoon.

In presenting Mr. Roosevelt, Governor Rivers said: I am happy to have this as-

Everyone knows of my love for and loyalty to the honored guest of this occasion. Everyone knows of my support of the libberal and progressive principles he is seeking to translate into policies of government. I have fought shoulder to shoulder with this great humanitarian leader in bringing the benefits of his liberal program to Georgia. Among the reasons I love, honor and respect him is: When the nation had been plunged into despair by economic royalists and a government under their domination, when delusionment and discouragement prevailed, when greed that had made the few rich had made the many hungry, when millions of people were deprived of even liberty of a living, no man in public life at any point had the vision, the courage and the practical solution of setting things right save this man His great character, his matchless in tellect and his irresistible personality caused the people to take

There are those of us who believe that there is a divinity that shapes the destiny of nations as well as individuals, and that this man is the man of destiny, lifted up by an all-wise Creator to lead this nation in this period of stress and strain. While other statesmen at the time quivered and quaked, stood speechless and opinionless: while hunger suffering, unrest and open riot ing pervaded the land. mouldering revolution stalked the people, this man acted. The people trust the judgment, the leadership, and the patriotism of this man.

"CALAMITY HOWLERS"

Of course, there are those calamity howlers who predict dire things about the country. There always have been, and probably ever will be. Way back in 1840, nearly 100 years ago, Emerson, the great essayist, wrote these words: "The United States cannot pay its debts. There is put one thing to do-put the United States into bankruptcy and sell it to the highest bidder." This sounds very much like some of our modern philosophers of pessimism. However, Georgians have not let the attitude of faltering doubters deter us in our unswerving support of this great man. We to follow through him to the goal of this ambition to do something about the problems that beset the wellbeing of the masses of the people. have seen reforms tenure of office that have benefited us. We know he knows about the needs of the people, and we know that he will do more about serving the needs of the people than any living leader in the nation.

We have seen him accomplish for our benefit measures other officeholders and officeseekers had, for generations, told us were impossible. We have seen him correct conditions that other officeholders before had declared incorrectable and a scourge to be endured.

We had been told, prior to this man, that business could not stand an insurance of bank deposits; that the periodical failure of banks and cycles of were so vitally embedded in the necessary nature of business operations of the country that nothing could be done about it; that the depositors should just calmly watch their hard-earned savings disappear with periodical failures, without recourse. Both business and officeholders had a chance to do something about it. but did not. This man did something about it, so that now the savings of the rank and file of the people are insured, and there are no more bank failures, no more wiping out of the hardearned savings of the people.

REFERS TO AID

We know that heretofore both business and officeholders told us that the aged, the crippled and the dependent children, and the blind, were just constantly accumulated wreckage from social and economic order things and that nothing could be done about it. But we witnessed this great man doing something about it in the form of old age pensions, aid for the blind, aid to the crippled and dependent children.

We had been told that th business of the country was such that while manufacturers must be protected by tariffs, and the price of a manufactured package of cigarets, for instance, brought the same price year in and year out, the manufactured automo biles, for instance, brought ap proximately the same price year in and year out, that nothing done about helping stabilize the price of farm products; that although he produce the food to sustain the country similar governmen extend benefits and subsidies to the farmer as were given to industry, was in the realm of the impossible, yet we have witnessed this man doing something about it. We had been told that laws to benefit the people were uncon-stitutional, and that the supreme court would declare them so; although laws to benefit big business were constitutional and the supreme court would so declare them; and that nothing could be done about it. But we witnessed this man doing something about even the supreme court, to place the people's laws on a parity with laws of special interests, and within the sheltering arm of the constitution.

RECALLS HELP TO FARMERS

We had been told that while industry could shut down its plants and quit producing, when there was an overproduction, in order not to produce at a loss, le into brea and unemployment for the farmer to continue to feed, that the farmer must continue to overproduce and sell at a loss. And othing could be done about it. We have witnessed this man ing something about it. While others had told us the unemployed should be permitted to be a charge upon the charity of local communities and their families starve, and nothing could be done about it, we have seen this man others had seen dust storms rage, flood waters ravage, soil erosion sweep our lands to the sea, we been told this was just the work of the weather, and nothing could be done about it, but we have seen this man doing some thing about it. We had been told that the Wall Streeters could periodically milk the market, suck in the unuspecting, fleece and rob the small investors, manipulate worthless stocks, and nothing could be done about nessed this man doing something

These, and many other things too numerovs to detail, we have seen this great man doing something about to help, where ers said nothing could be done There has been a recession, but it would have been worse if banks were failing on every side-we must not retrace our steps; we must follow through-as did Columbus; as did Moses; as is this great man. We had been told that the use of electric current should be restricted to the populous centers and that, although it is a great natural resource of the entire country, nothing could be done about distributing it out to the remote rural sections for the use of all the people.

We witnessed that this man has done something about it, is bringing the blessings of electric appliances and radio to the housewife on the farthest farm. Construction is under way or completed for approximately 53,-739,575.3571.7 miles, serving 15,-In addition to all these things, here is another reason why we love this great man-he is one of our very own, a taxpayer, a resident, and a part-time citizen of our state. Years before he was called to his present high station, he lived among uz here in Georgia. Periodically, while he is about the tremendous task of his office now, he finds time to return to us.

Many, many years after he ceases to hold this highest office hé will live among us, I hope, the whole time as a citizen and voter, but be that as it may, for the first time in the illustrious history of our great state, the

The reason I say the time is opportune for such southern statesmanship is that for the first time since the War Between the States the sons of the south are in the saddle in Washington; our great President, at the head of the executive branch of the government, a part-time southerner yes, even a part-time Georgian. The heads of the legislative branches of the national govern ment are southerners: dent of the United States senate: Alben William Barkley, of Ken tucky, floor leader of the United States senate; John Hollis Bankhead, of Alabama, speaker of the national house of representatives; Samuel Rayburn, of Texas, floor leader of the national house of representatives, and southerners of the nation was standing on too numerous to mention as Georgia platform reading out the opportunity for service to this state 16 years. state and region is most attrac-

Yet, the opportunity for this program to be carried through by congress with the present national set-up is most excellent.

These things I mention to emphasize the opportunity I see for Georgia and the south under this great leader. In fact it is the only time since the War Between the States that southern statesmen have had a real opportunity to do anything for the south,

ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 12, 1938. THERE AIN'T NO SICH ANIMAL-

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, chief executive of the government of the United States, yesterday went to Barnesville, Ga., and there delivered a campaign "stump" speech on behalf of a candidate, in the Georgia democratic primary, for nomination to the United States senate.

There is an ancient anecdote about the man who went to the circus for the first time and, after gazing long at the giraffe, turned away with a sigh and the remark, "I still think there ain't no sich animal."

That sums up the feeling which must predominate among many Georgians this morning: It is, immediately after hearing the Presidential speech, impossible to make coherent comment because of inability to even yet acknoweldge there can be "sich an animal."

President Roosevelt devoted a large part of his speaking time to a direct attack on Senator Walter F. George, Georgia's senior senator who is seeking renomination. He went to great lengths to reiterate his personal friendship for the senator, but concluded by declaring that Senator George is not in sympathy with the objectives of the Roosevelt program, the "New

He touched briefly and satirically upon the tandidacy of former Governor Eugene Talmadge and then said that, if he could vote in the Georgia democratic primary, he would vote for Lawrence S. Camp, the third candidate.

His attack on Senator George was greeted with cheers of assent and dissent. The senator was not without support. There were those who believed that even though Senator George had been forewarned of what was to come, the President was unnecessarily severe and that despite his protestations of friendship there positively was no evidence of any friendly feeling in his attack

It was a Roman holiday for the New Deal. The fact that a man whom even the President himself most emphatically designated as a scholar and a gentleman, should have been so ruthlessly and savagely attacked to provide entertainment for the holiday, was resented by many not listed among the senator's supporters.

Ostensibly, the President was at Barnesville to dedicate that electrification project. He made little reference to this subject in his speech, however. Beyond a few short sentences at the close, no one would have guessed the object of the gathering. It was, in every respect, a typical Georgia political speech, save that the speaker was the President of the Georgians have heard every type of stump speech in the past, but yesterday President Roosevelt provided them with a new experience.

The entire gist of the presidential remarks anent the desirability of various candidates for the United States seante boiled down to the desire to have men there who would unquestioningly support every legislative proposal the White House saw fit to make. It was plain he wants no independent thinkers in congress, desiring only men or women who will back his thoories and details of government 100 per

He sought, in the summer of 1937, to force through congress a bill which would have permitted him to "pack" the United States supreme court with men who would give undeviating loyalty, not to the constitution of the United States, but to the aspirations of the "New Deal." Failing that, today he appears to be seeking to pack the United States senate with men who will conceive their duty to be fulfilled when they accept the role of "Yes Men" for the White House.

He would turn the United States senate into a gathering of 96 Charlie McCarthys with himself as the sole Edgar Bergen to pull the strings and supply the vocalisms. He has asked Georgia to furnish one of these "Yes Men."

Will Georgians accept the invitation?

This changing America: The government is streamlining the Thanksgiving turkey to fit an apartment oven instead of a family of twelve.

It is twenty-four years since the taxicab army out of Paris arrived at the Marne, moving the invader to remark, "They're always around when you aren't looking for them."

The tot of two who smokes dark cigars for the picture pages is in again. We rather imagined the little darling had taken up opium ere this.

THE NAZI BIBLE

The latest step toward complete Nazification of the Reich is a rewriting of the New Testament. High Nazi churchmen have altered the King James version to correspond with present "ideals" and to purge Christianity of features objectionable to the Nazi soul.

Comparisons of a few verses of the King James version and the Nazi version tell their own story of the National Socialist mind.

For instance, St. Matthew, verse 9, in the James version reads: "Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God." The Nazi version makes this: "Happy are they who keep peace with their fellow countrymen: they do the will of God."

St. John, xii, 12, 13, in the James version states: "On the next day . . . when they heard that Jesus was coming . . . took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord." Now, here is the Nazi version of that verse: "Then they took green branches, went to meet him, and cried: Heil to him that comes in the name of God. Heil to thee, thou shalt be our King!"

The King James version of St. John, xiv, 2, reads: "In my Father's house are many mansiosn; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto Myself, that where I am, there ye may be also." The Nazi version changes that to this: "God's eternity is like a spacious house. How else could I say to you that I will give you an eternal home? I go before you as your Fuehrer but I will come again and take you to me; for ye too shall be where I am. Ye know the way thither."

The Nazis say they like the changes. The rest of the world wonders what God thinks

ANNUAL FARM FORUM

In addressing the annual meeting of the Georgia Agricultural Society at Athens, I. W. Duggan, southern director, United States Department of Agriculture, summed up the primary objectives of the farm program in the south as follows: Balanced production, compensating payments for products, production of food and feed crops and soil conservation, all essential to a rounded, permanent success.

"The truth of the business," said Duggan, "is that agriculture had to adopt production control in self-defense." Yet, despite this control, "farmers will market 5 to 10 per cent more this year than in 1929," while "industry will market 30 per cent less." Unquestionably, controlling farm production is proving a difficult problem. In industry, it is largely a matter of issuing a few orders. Production machinery is geared to quick economic change. In agriculture, however, many factors beyond human anticipation or control may enlarge the crop when a smaller one is desired or make it even smaller than wanted, regardless of the best laid of man's

A forum, such as that conducted each year by the Georgia Agricultural Society, where farm problems can be freely discussed, cannot be praised too highly. At the present session many important questions were discussed, such as relationship of the banker to the farmer, raising better as well as more cattle and getting the maximum results on the farm with the facili-

H. Stanley Hastings, president of the society, hit one Georgia farm problem nail squarely on head. "We cannot go on indefinitely depending on the government or any other agency for a living," he said. "We must stand on our own feet. The sooner we get back on our own feet, the better it will be. To accomplish this, the farmer must first plan to raise the majority of his food for himself, his family and his livestock, then think about his cash crops."

The average farm should be more a home of the self-sustaining kind and less of a business for cash profit. What profit, it has often been asked, can there be in raising products for sale, then spending the money, at high prices, for necessities which could have been produced more cheaply? The prosperous farmer, almost without exception, is the man who has followed Hastings' suggestion.

WHAT STRIKES ARE FOR.

(From the Los Angeles Times)
In its analysis of Los Angeles county strikes and labor disturbances during 1937, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association shows clearly that, here at least, it is no question of wages and hours which is the motive force of industrial war-

Of 137 seperate disturbances during last year only six involved wages and hours, or 4.3 per cent of the whole. The main cause was demand for the closed shop, which was the strike cause in 92 per cent of the cases; 3.7 per cent of the strikes were due to "jurisdictional" disputes be-

Strikes for the "closed shop" are not primarily for the benefit of union members. They are for the benefit of union officials and union racketeers. If a man is satisfied with his wages and his hours, it is a matter of indifference to him personally whether fellow-workers join in the union or not. But a union official, or a racketeer, cannot be indifferent to the money that is escaping him when all workers in an industry do not pay

The M. and M. estimates that $84,843,000 was the economic loss to the community through the strikes of 1937, representing a loss of 479,000 mandays of work and pay. If this is correct, more than 440,000 days' pay were surrendered by workers for the benefit of union officials or racketeers. They might well ask themselves what they got

FARM LAW AIDS TALMADGE. BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11. played on the President, if the farm law which he whipped through a balky congress gives him Gene Talmadge instead of Walter George as senator from Georgia. And that is precisely what the farm law may do.

The AAA's stern new system of production quotas is provoking some discontent among farmers everywhere. In the thirty-five to-bacco counties of Georgia, it is about as popular as King George's stamp tax. Henry Wallace has fixed the Georgia tobacco quota at 76,000,000 pounds, but a tactlessly bountiful nature has caused the Georgia farms to produce between 90,000,000 and 100,000,000 pounds. To sell their surplus millions of pounds, the farmers must pay a penalty tax of 50 per cent of the price. The tobacco farmers are mad as hornets, and even the cotton farmers, who are confused by the whole quota mechanism, are on the irritable side.

Such a set-up is pie for Gene Talmadge. The brash, red-gallused, Bible belt demagogue is detested by the President only slightly less than Walter George, the chosen victim of the White House purge. Talmadge's January, 1936, convention of "grrass roots" Democrats, heavily financed by Liberty League money, was as sordid an appeal to color and every other sort of prejudice as the country has lately seen. Although he used to be chosen darling of big business, big business has cast him off. But the embattled agriculturists of Georgia still love him like a brother.

At the moment, he is rampaging through the farm counties, bellowing that the quota system is "agin God and nature." George voted for the farm production quotas. The New Deal candidate, United States District Attorney Lawrence Camp, cannot attack them. And Gene Talmadge is attracting huge crowds. From a rank outsider he has come up in the betting to a point where leaders at both George and Camp headquarters tell you he is a real threat.

THE COURTHOUSE GANGS. As this is written, the crowds are gathering here in Barnesville to hear the President speak. He may destroy George and Talmadge at one stroke, leaving the field clear for his favorite, Camp. But then, again, he may not.

In Talmadge's favor is the so-called "county unit" system prevailing in Georgia. It is, in effect, a rotten borough system, by which state-wide candidates have got to poll a majority of the counties rather than a majority of the voters. It gives a great advantage to the man who is strong in the thinly populated rural counties, and puts a heavy burden on the candidate whose strength is in the big cities and urban districts.

Nevertheless, Talmadge is by no means out in front, yet. Probably the whole election will turn on the eventual decision of the county courthouse politicians, who work for whichever side their bread is buttered on, At the moment, with his heavy support from big business, George has the county courthouse gangs all over the state. The President may be able to swing them to Camp. Or, Talmadge looks like a better bet than George, the utilities men and bankers, whom he will serve faithfully, may switch to him, bringing the county courthouse boys with them. Judging by the present response to his yellings and bellowings, Talmadge will get a big vote whatever happens, but even this appearance may be deceptive.

GARDEN OF EDEN. George, who is playing the elder statesman's role, has campaigned little. the President's choice, has been dutifully energetic, already having visited 90 counties, and personally talked to 25,000 persons. But Talmadge is the real flag-waving, eye-popping, tub-thumping political evangelist. Your correspondents were denied the pleasure of seeing him on the stump, but they did call on him in his somewhat cheerless law office, where the chief ornaments are large and glistening spittoons. Besides demagogy, the outstanding talent of Georgia's former governor is hitting any spittoon, at any distance, any

"Mah three-point program can lead us to the Promised Land," he began. "A spendin' and a lendin' plan only creates more confusion and chaos. This doctrine of work less and spend more is the doctrine of the devil." The three-point program, incidentally, is home-stake and grub-stake the unemployed; protect the farmer and worker with high tariffs, and expand the CCC camps. "Why," he went on, "I'll make America another Garden of Eden."

Whether or not he succeeds in this endeavor, a good many Ge gians think he can. The waiting room of his office was crowded with overalled farmers, coming a bit self-consciously to pay their Talmadge greeted them with a boisterous affection. the people who could put him on or keep him off the pay roll. One thing is sure. If America is transformed into a Garden of Eden, there will be a fat, high-salaried job somewhere in the Garden—say, keeper of the serpents—for Gene Talmadge.

Tense President BARNES-VILLE, Ga., Reading George Aug. 11.—An Out of New Deal August Geored down. On the platform it was cold as ice.

The President of the United States, his face tensed with emo-tion, was slowly, inexorably and mercilessly reading out of the New Deal a gray-haired man in a blue suit who sat just to his left. Walter George did not remain away. He was there.

The dignitaries sat there on the

It could have been very funny. They all knew what was coming Most of them had been on the train and read the speech which the President had completed only 30 minutes out of Barnesville. It could have been historically hilarious.

One wondered what was going on beneath all those neat parts in hair of the gentlemen on the platform. All their heads were ticking. All were looking at the crowd, trying to digest it, seeking o understand it.

When it was done, Walter eorge stepped forward and said just 30 words:

"Mr. President, I regret that you have taken this occasion to ques-tion my Democracy and to attack my public record. I want you to know that I accept the challenge." "God bless you, Walter," said the President, his voice strong and his face showing some evidences of embarrassment, "I hope we will always be friends." That was it. The President went to his car and sped away. A crowd of 500 or 600 people all but mobbed Walter George, assuring him of support. The greatest and most thrilling political spectacle in Georgia's history was

ROOSEVELT TRACES INTERESTS IN SOUTH AT ATHEN.

MILDLY BLISTERS THOSE 'RETARDING' SECTION'S ADVANCE

Feudalism and Demagoguery Given His Attention: Is Awarded LL.D. Degree.

> By RALPH McGILL. Constitution Staff Writer.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 11.-President Franklin D. Roosevelt this morning became an alumnus of the University of Georgia. Beneath a hot, blistering sun he mildly blistered those who with feudalism or demagoguery would retard the advancement of the south and then received the degree of doctor of laws from Chancellor S. V. Sanford, of the University System of Georgia.

He heard a citation which recited all his accomplishments and which closed with the words: "Friend, Christian, good neighbor, benefactor of mankind," and later said of it, "I loved that citation."

In Amiable Mood.

He was in an amiable mood when the doctor's hood was put about his neck. They took it off to do it over again so that still and movie cameras might record the scene for posterity.
"Now, I am being defrocked,"

he said, laughing.
When they put it back again he

EXECUTIVE LAUGHS OVER PAVING VOW

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 11.—(P) President Roosevelt laughed and said today he once vowed he would not come to Athens until he had a paved road from Warm Springs.

"That was a rash statement as it has turned out," the President said. "The road is not quite there yet."

He said, however, that "my iend, your governor has friend, your governor has promised me it will be there friend. and that was enough for me and here I am."

Speaking of Georgia, he said:
"It really does not believe either in demogoguery or feudalism dressed up in democratic clothes." Intent of Reference?

Some present professed to see a reference to Senator Walter F. George as the feudalist and Eu-gene Talmadge as the demagogue, but most of those present believed the reference to be general and directed toward general conditions

The President was in fine fettle. He had a friendly crowd of about 15,000 in the stadium and another 5,000 lining the streets.

His speech, which was along the lines of his famous "Number One Economic Problem" talk, traced his interest in southern problems the interes from the time his friend, the late George Foster Peabody, interested him in Georgia and Warm Springs.

Gist of Speech.

His conclusion was the real gist of his speech:

Therefore, in the long run, the best way for your national gov-ernment to assist state and local educational objectives is to tackle the national aspects of economic problems-to eliminate discriminations between one part of the country and another-to raise purchasing power and thereby create new wealth in those sections where it is far too low—to save ural resources-and to explain to constant progressive action is betfollowing either those who want to slow up or those who promise they will hand you the oon on a silver platter a week after they are elected.'

Rivers' Tribute. The platform in Sanferd stadium, where the ceremony was held, was filled with faculty and regents, perspiring beneath cap and gown. Governor Rivers, who was introduced to the crowd by University President Harmon W. Caldwell, paid high tribute to the President for his aid to Georgia, his benefactions to the nation and the world. When it was done the field to the special train. It left station en route there were small children and men and women waiting to wave at the train and the man it carried.

The university and its officials had done themselves proud. The ceremony was flawless and beautiful: the speech effective and without political reference except in that it applied to his program.

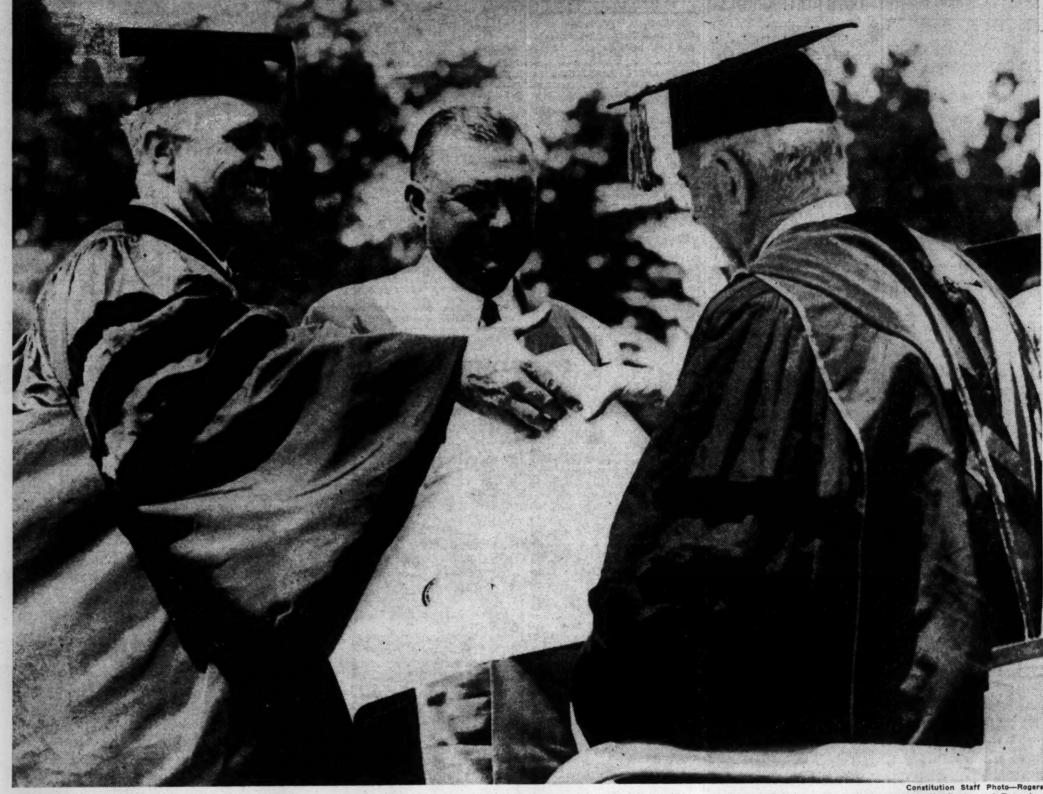

Best laugh came when the

Text of Athens Speech of President Roosevelt

ATHENS Ga., August 11-(AP)dent as the greatest humanitarian Here Is Text of President Roose-statesman of all time; a Georgian, velt's address here today:

It is with particular pride in and increased devotion to this state that I become today an alumnus of the University of Georgia. During many years I have had important contacts with your trustees and faculty and I can therefore appreciate the excellent service which you are rendering to the cause of education not only in Georgia but in the nation.

ny years ha I first came to Warm Springs and got to know and to love the state and its people. I wonder if you, who live here all the time, can realize as well as I, who have been coming here once or twice a year, the amazing progress that has been made here in a short decade and a half . . . and especially in the past five years. If you see a person morning, noon and night you do not note the changes of growth or health of friend as readily as if you see him only at intervals; and that is why I feel that I can speak with perspective

IN BOOM PERIOD

In my earlier years here I saw a south in the larger sense forgotten in the midst of an unhealthy national speculation a boom era which thought in terms of paper profits instead of numan lives. And for those days what has the south to show today? A few fortunes but most of the profits went north.

Then came the tragic years of the depression. Closed banks in almost every community, ruinous crop prices, idle mills, no money for schools or roads . . . a picture of despair. et, through all those years, the south was building a new school of thought . . . a group principally recruited from younger men and women who understood that the economy of the south was vitally and inexorably linked with that of the nation and that the national good was dependent equally on the improvement of the welfare of the south. They began asking search ing questions: Why is our pay-in other words, our earning capacity-so low? Why are our roads so bad? Why is our sanitation and medical care so neglected? Why are our teachers so inadequately paid? Why are our local school building and equipment so antiquated?

I do not mince words because, first of all, I have a right . . . a nation-wide right, a state right and withal a sympathetic and understanding right to speak them, and, secondly, because you as well as I know them to be true.

It may not be politic, but it is good American idealism to recognize, to state boldly, that in 1932 the conditions of human life in Georgia and it other states of the lower south were as a whole at bottom of the national scale. At the same time let us rejoice and take pride in the undoubted fact that in these past six years the south has made greater ecoic and social progress up the cale than at any other period in

PRESIDENT LAUDS GEORGE F. PEABODY

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 11.—(P) President Roosevelt departed from a prepared text in his speech at the University of Georgia today to pay tribute to the late George Foster Peabody, noted banker and educator. "Many years have gone by," the President said, "since I first came to Warm Springs and got to know and to love the state and its people. For many years before that I had heard much of Georgia, from the lips of that old friend of mine, George Foster Peabody, who reverses my process; was born in Georgia and became a citizen of the state of New York. "Wherever he lived, wherever he went, there was one thing about Mr. Peabody that stood out, and that was his love for humanity; and so I am proud today to be receiving a degree that was proposed by Mr. Peabody some time before his unfortunate death."

her long history. It is my object tive and yours to maintain that march and to accelerate its pace. On the side of education a long experience teaches us that the improvement of educational fa-cilities is inevitably bound up with economic conditions. Years ago I was told by a distinguished citizen of Georgia that public school education was well provided for because there was a law-or perhaps it was in the state constitution itself-providing that every child should have a full school year—and that attendance for each school year through grade school was com-pulsory. But I soon discovered school after school in the rural districts-and most of them are rural districts-where the school was open only four months or five months a year—or was too small to hold all the children or couldn't employ enough teachers—or where children, whose parents wanted them to could stay away from work, school with complete immunity Apparently a law or a clause in the constitution was not enough. What is law without enforcement? Apparently the di-vine method "let there be light, and there was light" did not work as mere man's dictum.

Then I began to analyze: Was it due to lack of interest? was due to lack of money Every man and coman I talked deplored the wretched with school conditions. Wanted better schools, better trained and better paid teachers, wanted mor teachers, wanted a full school year. But-the answer was al ways the same-we cannot get more money from taxes.

And why not? The answer is simple: the taxable values were not there. The tax rates were not too low, but the actual going values of property were meagre that when taxes on those values were collected the sum re ceived could not pay for adequate teachers or equipment. Publi-education was therefore depend ent on public wealth. Public wealth was too low to support

That analysis of mine-made even before I was elected gov-ernor of New York, led my mind to many other questions: were land values and therefore of decent wages, of the cost of living, of taxable income, of sound banking, of small merchants. And these things, too,

In other words, social conditions-schools and hospitals and clothing and housing and foodwere intimately dependent on economic conditions - higher wages, higher farm income and more profits for small businessmen.

bore directly on the problem of

better schools.

So you will see that my thoughts for the south are no new thing. Long before I had any idea of re-entering public life was planning for better life for people of Georgia. In the later years I have had some opportunity to practice what I have long preached. Obviously the federal government cannot carry the load alone.

In education, for example, Washington has greatly assisted by using the labor of people who really need help to build school houses, to give student aid, and pay many teachers. Washington will help by giving some grants in aid to those communities which need them the most. But Washington should not and cannot rightly subsidize public education throughout the United States. Education should be run by the states and their subdivisions.

Therefore in the long run, the best way for your national gov-ernment to assist state and local educational objectives is to tackle the national aspects of economic problems-to eliminate discriminations between one part of country and another-to raise purchasing power and thereby create wealth in those sections where it is far too low-to save the waste and the erosion of our natural resources, to encourage each section to become financially independent, to take the lead in establishing social security— and at the same time to explain to the people in every part that constant progressive action is better than following either those who want to slow up or those who promise they will hand you the moon on a silver platter a

Today, Maxwell was killed when lightning again struck at the same spot. PARAMOUNT TO SHOW
"PROFESSOR BEWARE"
"Professor Beware," the comedy

opening today at the Paramount theater, brings Harold Lloyd back to the screen after an absence of over a year and a half and adds a ning around with a "fast" little new leading lady to the roster of feminine stars that started with him. As is his custom, Lloyd searches for talent before casting to lose all he owns. But, the jua new picture and this time he dicial mind works things out in pops up with a lovely new blonde, another human story.

FIRMS CHARGED WITH 'CONSPIRACY'

FTC Orders Stop in 'Monopoly' Practices.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)-The Federal Trade Commission announced today it had ordered five manufacturers of concrete pipe and other concrete products stop certain practices the commission contended, were part of a "conspiracy" to suppress competition.

The commission alleged this conspiracy was designed to drive out competitors in the eastern seaboard territory, where the com-panies operate. The practices were lleged to have been used particularly in Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia

The commission charged the respondents constituted a group so arge and influential they controlled substantially the flow of concrete products in the above

To Problem Is Squeeze

By Harold Sharpsteen.

When there is no other possible way to fulfill a contract, nothing is ever lost by attempting a squeeze play . . . even when it fails. Reward for success comes in extra tricks and added thrills in

In the following deal, illustrating a squeeze suit divided, declarer recognized a squeeze was the only solution to his problem. Risking nothing in assuming the outstanding control cards would be in a favorable position for the squeeze to work, declarer proceeded to execute it.

(Dummy) S-Q 9 6 4 2 H-A 10 5 D-A C-Q J 10 2 S-A Q J 10 H-K 7 3 D-Q 7 C-A K 8 4 (Declarer)

With the contract seven spades, declarer could account for but 12 tricks by ordinary methods of play as West opened with the diamond

Even though he ruffs his diamond queen with one of dummy's trumps, a heart finesse is out of the question.

LEAD PLACES KING. West's lead of the diamond jack conceivably places the king in East's hand. South's queen sets up a one-card threat against East's diamond king.

If East should also hold the queen-jack of hearts as well, there is a possible squeeze play against East, provided declarer's hands contain the necessary essentials to develop and execute DECLARER'S ASSUMPTION.

East must hold at least thre hearts . . . queen-jack and a guard diamond queen by retaining the diamond king . . . four "busy' control cards in all.

One tri'k has been played, won by dummy's diamond ace. Twelve tricks remain to be played. Declarer must make eight straight winning leads to strip East's hand down to nothing but "busy" cards and reach the actual point of

EAST'S HAND. East's hand actually contained the following cards:

H-Q J 9 8 6 D-K 8 6 4 3 C-9 3

West's opening lead claimed one of East's small diamonds. How can South win the remaining 12 tricks? Till tomorrow. . . . (Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

Only Solution MYDAY: First Lady Queried On Government Note

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

HYDE PARK, N. Y .- I had just filed my column yesterday an was waiting for a traffic light to change, when two men stood ur expectedly at my car window. In unison they spoke: "We represent two great metropolitan dailies, and we want to know if you were disturbed by Father Divine and his followers on their arrival at their new home across the river from you?"

I am staying at my cottage, which is some three miles back from the river, so I had to con-fess to having no knowledge of anything which had transpired some six miles away. A look of disappointment spread over my questioners' faces. I felt sorry not to be able to give them some kind of a story, but one must be truthful.

I have a request from an unknown corre-spondent who wishes me to state in my column why the government is not dishonest in placing 3 per cent government notes in the "old-age reserve account" instead of investing, as a private bank or business would, in an income-producing bond of set. She says she would like to have domestic servants include d in

She says she would like to have domestic servants include at in social security act if the government did not spend the mornies painto this fund for current expenses and, by so doing, give no futu security such as a private individual or a firm would give.

The answer seems to me obvious, though I have consulted r financial experts and realize that I may be wrong. If you believe in the solvency of your country and the ability of the people to pay the debts which the country incurs, then those government notes are as good security for the future as you can have. In an notes are as good security for the future as you can have. In an investment, you gamble on someone's judgment. Many people kno today that conservative investments made at one time may become valueless at some future time.

However, there is one thing we can be sure of-if every countr cannot pay its debts, then no private investment will have any valu either. So I would take a chance on those government notes, dequestioner; pay my taxes cheerfully and hope that government he to business and individuals may not be needed to so great an extent in the future. Then the government debt may gradually b reduced and a reduction in taxes will follow.

Today has been a glorious day. I haven't wanted to ride for days, partly because the flies and the mosquitoes in the wood were discouraging to horses and rider, and partly because the fc and damp heat made me wonder if anything was really wort doing. However, I feel today that I could enjoy even strenuou exercise.

What fun it is when one can have as gay a time with the members of one's family as with acquaintances who are intriguing, be cause they have the lure of the unknown. We like to meet people because we don't know what they are like, and I think as a famil; we enjoy each other because we are never quite sure that we know all there is to know about each other. My brother drove up from New York late yesterday afternoon for a swim and dinner with th Grays. Neither he nor I see as much as we want to of this aur and uncle, for they have a rare gift of never losing touch an always are interested in other people's interests.

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 11.-The marriage of Miss Gladys Hamilton and J. R. Timmerman, which was solemnized in June, is of cordial interest to friends in Georgia and in Marietta, where Mr. Timmer-man is teacher of English in the Marietta High school. The mar-riage was solemnized at the historic old home of the bride, near Edgefield, S. C. Rev. J. D. Hughey, of Augusta, cousin of the bride officiated.

The living room, in which the bride's paternal grandparents were wed, was decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Miss Janie Fulner, of Edgefield, rendered a musical program.

The lovely bride was gowned in navy blue marquisette with touches of dusky rose, and her accessories were navy and rose. She wore a shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses, and her only jewelry was a cameo necklace, the wedding gift of her maternal grandmother. She carried a hand-kerchief used by her great aunt. Mrs. Timmerman is the elder daughter of Mrs. Lucy B. Hamilton and the late Llewellyn Holloway Hamilton, of Edgefield coun-ty, South Carolina. She received ty, South Carolina. She received her B. S. and M. Dodo's face reddened resent-fully.

"I've seen him all winter long, and danced with him, and I sat with him all through 'She Stoops to Conquer.' I don't see how you can say that I hardly know him. All last week he was here in Merriwell when his father was sick, and he and I drove around in his car for whole afternoons. Why, they're people, the Sallocks, like other people!" Dodo, driven out of her usual timid inarticulatiess, said roundly, "If you love a person I don't know why dairy cows aren't just as interesting as real estate or architecture!"

"Yes, but what are you going to do? Just live along here and not tell any one?"

"I don't know quite what I'm is a minute?"

"Girls, will you come in here for a minute?"

Joyce, her heart thundering, arose. Did she know anything of Dodo's marriage, or didn't she? They would question them both, arose. Did she know anything of Dodo's marriage, or didn't she? They would question them both, and what line should she take? Pure astonishment, that was best for herself and Dodo, too. "Married" she would gasp. "Oh, Dodo, you're not Who said so? I don't believe it!"

She was sick with trepidation; she went into the parlor. But Dodo seemed calm, and was humming lightly as they went in. Ben and Michael had already started to walk up to Michael's place; Lissy had gone to bed.

This letter threw J fully.

"I don't know quite what I'm any one for a long while anyway. There's no use your staring at me let's go back and finish up the spring. Charley won't be back until Sunday, and I'll see him then.

A sudden affectionate compunction shook Joyce's heart. Again she put her arms about her sister, whispered in her ear.

"Darling, I hope it's all going to be happy and right for you!" Dodo weakened; was weeping. her eyes. When they went back to the spring both girls had reddened eyes. In the other match of the south-eastern round robin tourney the strong Nashville team trounced Louisville, 8 to 1.

Today, the third day of competition, will see Nashville and Carolina clash at 10 o'clock and Atlanta meet Nashville at 3. The final round is set for Saturday. In their match with Carolina, the Atlantans were able to take only one singles match—that on default—and but one of the doubles. Don Buffington and Red Hill turned in the only doubles victory with a 6-3, 9-7 decision over Boykin and Belser.

Gus Kallio, middleweight wrestling champion of the world, will meet plenty of stiff opposition tonight when he tackles Honey Boy Hackney, Dallas, hook scissors king, in defense of his crown.

The Avondale Arena will be the scene of plenty of red-hot action when these two top-flight wrestlers go into action tonight.

Kallio is the most colorful figure in the wrestling industry to day. Mixing speed with his expert knowledge of the game, he is hard to beat. Kallio has toured the mid-dle western states, meeting all comers. Born in Finland, Kallio start-ed wrestling when he was a mere lad of 16 years. He won the world championship from Midget Fisher after two hours and 30 minutes of fierce struggling.

Atlantan Will Face Kramer Today in Quarter-Final Match

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(UP)— Semi-final brackets in the wom-en's division and quarter-final places in the men's competition were filled today in the eastern lawn tennis championships at the Westchester Country Club.

The day's play was marked by the collapse of Bitsy Grant, of Atlanta, Ga., fourth-ranking player in the nation and seeded third r the eastern title, while playing Frank Guernsey Jr., national col-legiate champion from Orlando, Fla. Grant won the first set, 9-7, Guernsey took the second, 6-1, and the Georgia Mite was leading, 5-2, in the third, when he fainted. Grant was revived and won the necessary points to win the set, 6-2, and the match. Then he collapsed again and was ordered to bed by Dr. E. J. Healey, who found his blood pressure far under nor-mal at 70. He advised Bitsy to shots, having only 16 putts on the take a long rest from tennis, but the Atlantan treated his illness lightly and said he would play tomorrow. The physician blamed the excessive heat for the collapse of Grant, who still has not regained all of his strength from a recent appendectomy.

Also reaching the round of eight were top-seeded Bobby Riggs, Chicago; Ronald Lubin, Los Angeles; second-seeded Frank Park-er, Beverly Hills, Cal.; Jack Kramer, Montebello, Cal.; fourth-seed-ed Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas; sixth-seeded Joe Hunt, Los An- bays hit his sixteenth, Bud Hafey and eighth-seeded Gene clouted the other. NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11.—(P)—Larry Gilbert, manager of the New Orleans Pelicans, today announced the sale of his dependable catcher, Charlie (Greek) George, to Brooklyn of the National league in exchange for two players, unnamed, and an undetermined

"A team like the Crackers that goes in for team speed, pitching and defense will go a long way. The parks uniformly are too big for the long fly knockers and the team that hits straight away always will be a pennant threat."

Well, the Crackers haven't clinched the pennant as yet, but they are far in front. And if they continue winning it will be only a matter of days until the race is settled.

Only one writer in Atlanta picked the Crackers to win the pennant. The others selected Chattanooga and New Orleans. This is not pointed out in a boasting manner, but only to keep the records straight.

Little Rock won a pennant in 1916 with a bunch of hitless onders under Kid Elberfeld. And there have been more pennant winners, by a country mile, that didn't have power but relied on team speed, pitching and defense, than you would magine on first glance.

Little Rock last year didn't have power. The Pebbles had the other necessary requisities. They had fine pitching, hustle, speed. They made their own breaks. Somebody may have worried about Chattanooga—but not me. For the sake of the record, that is down in black and

A BOLLING SUPPORTER. Edna S. Smith, of Atlanta, is up in arms over the letter nd poem of Regina Rapier recently published in this column.

But it is, unquestionably, a mistake. I mean Miss Smith must have read it hurriedly, for there was not, in either poem or letter, any disparaging remarks made about the Cracker first baseman.

Miss Rapier was kidding about how much territory Johnny Il covers and said it seemed a shame he did not have someone on the other side of the diamond to cover first base, instead of having to do it himself.

Regardless of this, however, Jack Bolling may be interested to know that he has a supporter in the stands ready, at any time, to go to bat for him. Miss Smith's letter follows:

'Dear Sir: "In reply to Regina Rapier's letter of August 10. What's the matter with our first baseman? NOTHING! As far as that goes, what's wrong with any of the Cracker players?

"I doubt very much if Miss or Mr. Rapier has ever seen a baseball game if she or he thinks we need a new first baseman.

The poem to Johnny Hill is well deserved by that member of the team, but don't come around talking about our first baseman, Jack Bolling. He is tops in my estimation and a lot of other fans too.

"Sincerely, "EDNA S. SMITH."

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME.

During the spring when a few nice plugs were put in for Eddie Rose, veteran Cracker outfielder, there was criticism from some quarters.

Some figured Rose, although he led the league in runs batted in after a slow start the year before, had seen his better days. Few could see the Crackers figuring in the race with Rose in the outfield.

But there are few better outfielders in the Southern league this year than Eddie Rose. He makes great catches and does his share of hitting.

This is Eddie's 10th year in the league. He is one of the real veterans. And such is his sparkplug play on a hustling ball club that often you are reminded, in this connection, of the poem by the immortal Frank Stanton-

"This old world we're living in Is mighty hard to beat You get a thorn with every rose But ain't the roses sweet?"

MUST BE A RECORD.

The Southern league has no record book, so there is no way of denying that yesterday's Cracker-Smokie game did not set a record for home runs in a single game. Ten homers in one game is the record in the majors. The nine made by the Crackers and Smokies—three by the league leaders and six by the tail-enders-will stand as a new mark until proved otherwise. The wind always blows in the direction of the fences at Knoxville and there must have been a semi-gale in progress vesterday. Anyway, it was about time the batters had a day. The pitchers have had the upper hand most of the season.

Charlie Barnes upset. Luke Barnes on the 18th green and Jack Bothamley eliminated Dave Black, a former state champion, 3-2, in the outstanding matches of the first round of the annual city amateur tournament on the Capital City course. All the other favorites advanced Thursday afternoon.

Second-round matches will be played at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, leaving two rounds for Saturday and the finals in all flights

Dr. Julius Hughes, Georgia's new champion and one of the favorites, shot sub-par golf to beat Weldon Branch Jr., Atlanta's junior champion. Dr. Hughes had five birdies and an eagle and was three strokes under par when he closed out the match.

Dr. Hughes made the most spectacular shot of the day on 14 when he closed out Weldon Branch. Dr. Hughes' drive stopped six inches short of a hole in one. It was a "gimme" birdie as Branch conceded the hole and match. Branch was only three strokes over par and was beaten, 5-4.

CHARLIE BLACK WINS.

Every Woman In Georgia Should Have It

The Constitution Will Buy It For You

This complete compilation of needed information for homemakers is acclaimed by home economic experts, dietitians and housewives everywhere as "the best cook book ever published in America." . . . It contains the best-most workable-soundest-most attractive of more than 800,000 recipes sent in to the Home Institute during the last twenty years. EVERY RECIPE HAS BEEN TESTED . . . It gives old methods as well as new. Correct yield, baking temperatures, properly balanced ingredients are always given. It has charts showing vitamins and calories. There are authoritative special diets for young and old . . . Easy to use-easy to understand-it stays open wherever you want it—the cover is washable and it is completely indexed. It is for the person of small or average means as well as those for whom costs are a less important factor. It is for the young bride and the experienced housewife alike . . . It takes all guesswork out of cooking-prevents waste and failures . . . Every Housewife should have it-THE CON-STITUTION WILL BUY IT FOR YOU!

Here Is How You Get It

AMERICA'S COOK BOOK sells everywhere for $2.50-BUT IT CAN BE YOURS WITHOUT PAYING ONE CENT FOR IT WHATSOEVER! You can earn it in one hour-or lessby obtaining two 6-months subscriptions to The ATLANTA CONSTITUTION. 822 739 NEW YORK, Aug. 11.-(AP)-Selling was a bit more insistent in today's stock market and leading issues lacked away fractions to around 2 points. A few volatile performers were off as much as 7.

A break in wheat futures to new 5-year lows helped chill speculative sentiment and, in addition, the indifference of the market to the Russo-Japanes, truce in the Far East tended to cloud recovery sentiment.

The lack of response to the Tokyo-Moscow peace move was attributed partly to the thought that this development might be only temporary. Revival of talk of a possible "Putsch" on the Czech-oslovakia border, while not borne out by cable dispatches, also inspired some liquidation, brokers

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.3 points at 48.1, the largest drop in this com-posite since July 27. Transfers expanded to 1,094,310 from 809,880 the day before. Rubbers, mail orders, farm imlements and a wide assortment of specialties were the principal victims of the day's setback. Rails, coppers and utilities were under pressure. A few steels and motors acted fairly well for a while, but these skidded at the last.

There was no particular change in the business picture, but some analysts were still of the opinion stock prices may have out-stripped even the most roseate forecasts for a fall upturn.

AVERAGE PRICE. NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11. (AP)-The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was unchanged at 8.44 cents a pound. The average price for the past 30 market days was 8.72 cents a pound. NEW YORK, Aug. 11 .- (AP)-Early slight gains in cotton today were later lost under a moderate volume of hedge selling. Demand was poor. December sold off from an opening high of 8.47 to close at a low of 8.41. Final prices were 1 to 3 points net lower. The market opened 3 points higher in response to the action of Liverpool and on a little trade and local buying. Reports of more lowered prices, but the declines were gradual, under southern selling and liquidation. Trade buying was less active owing to quietness of cotton goods markets and the fact price fixing orders had apparently been filled up on the previous decline.

Brokers' Views

COURTS & CO.—Foreign markets and foreign news are unsettling and the bond and commodity markets still do not act favorably, consequently a lower stock market seems a likely development.

BEER & CO.—The situation is not clear as yet, but is sufficiently uncertain to warrant the use of caution in making the commitments at this time, particularly for intermediate term traders.

Investigation Expected To Find Mutual Savings Banks Are Sound

BEC Experts Begin Anti-Trust Probe of Group, Hughes Writes.

By GEORGE T. HUGHES.

Copyright 1888, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—From Washington comes the news that the SEC experts "have begun the spands work for the articles in the spands work for the articles in the second secon spade-work for the anti-trust investigation of the $12,000,000,000 assets of the nation's mutual savings banks."

The dispatch continues with the that about $6,000,000,-000, or 50 per cent, of all such assets are held in New York state, and about 90 per cent is piled up in banks in five states: New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Apparently, the SEC, or whoever gave ut the announcement, believes here is something suspicious about this concentration of resources. It is really not so surprising as it

The truth is that mutual savings banks operate in only 17 of the 48 states and that, of these 17, all but Indiana, Minnesota, Ohlo, Oregon, Washington and Wisconsin are located in New England or along the northeastern Atlantic seaboard. Add to this the fact that the five states listed as having 90 per cent of mutual savings bank assets are among the ones with the largest per capita wealth, and there isn't much left to investigate

One might think that the proposed inquiry expected to uncover something sinister in the conduct of these mutual savings institutions. That is, of course, possible in any investigation of an institution run by fallible human beings, but, if there is any financial enterprise that can stand the most earching scrutiny, it is the American mutual savings bank, and, if there is any other organization which can show as good a record for conserving the funds entrusted to it, this writer does not know

Money Market.

NEW YORK. NEW YORK. Aug. 11.—The British pound and French franc declined close to the year's lows today after an early rally, apparently based on cessation of Russo-Japanese hostilities in the far east, had petered out.

New foreign and local selling carried the pound 9-16 of a cent lower and the French franc down 5-16 of a cent. The break was attributed by money experts to speculative pressure in view of official British apathy toward the recent drop in the pound.

TARZAN AND THE FORBIDDEN CITY

As the furious Zytheb rushed at her, Helen acted instinctively to save her own life. Without instinctively to save her own life. Without thinking, she seized a vase from a table and hurled it at his head. As the priest fell to the floor, she knew she had killed him. She had no

But what was she to do now? There could be no escape from this frightful place beneath the waters of Lake Horus. But she must go on, she must try. Quickly she took Zytheb's keys and sword, then crept out into the corridor, searching for the throne room.

Would she find priests or armed guards beyond? She hesitated a moment, then opened the door. Here was the throne room, deserted except for the sleeping prisoners. The girl hastened to Finally she came to a door. Was this the room?

Disgruntled Team Asks Court 'To Umpire' | TESTIMONY ENDS

HOLC Softball Players Charge 'Illegal' Extra Inning Cost Them Game.

A battery of attorneys for two teams in the Greater Atlanta Soft ball Association lined up for a legal skirmish yesterday in Fulton superior court, marking the first time a baseball game had ended in a court in Fulton county, ob-

Present in the courtroom were officials of the softball associa-tion to see the first innings of the "court game," instigated to decide which team was victor in a game

The umpires, members of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation team charged, let a game between their team and the Carolina-Port-land Cement Company proceed an inning overtime the night of Au-

Extra Inning Turns Tide.
The HOLC team held a one-run lead when the game should have ended, it was contended, but in the extra inning the cement com-pany team pounded out three runs and was registered the winner. Yesterday members of the HOLC team filed suit for an in-junction against the softball association seeking a court order restraining officials from accrediting the cement company team as victors in last week's game.

The suit further seeks to re-strain the cement company club from playing a softball game with Atlanta Police Department team tomorrow night.

QUALIFYING GAME.

Last week's game between HOLC and the cement company teams was played in a qualifying round to see which team would enter championship tournament now in progress, the action said.

By awarding the victory to the cement company team, members of the HOLC team have been illegally denied a chance at the Atlanta championship and a trip to Chicago national finals with all expenses paid, counsel for the HOLC team contended.

It all began this way, according to the plaintiffs-G. A. Powell Jr., Frazer, Herbert Goodson, Guy Miller, H. B. Arrowsmith, Julien Rose, C. W. Potter, Paul Walker, Marvin Johnson, Mose Lefkowitz and Irwin Menzen.

and the cement company would begin at 9:15 o'clock and end at that the game between their team 10:45 o'clock the night of the contest, they contended. They added that they "synchronized their plays and efforts accordingly."

Defense Rests After Presenting 27 Witnesses During Past Two Days.

SOUTH PARIS, Maine, Aug. 11. UP)-The defense rested late today after presenting 27 witnesses former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll innocent of the murder of a country doctor.

Testimony was completed at 3:39 p. m. (Atlanta time) with a spectacular courtroom demonstration designed to show Carroll's accuser Dwyer, was physicially able to carry the 150-pound murder victim from the second floor of his home to a waiting automobile.

Dwyer originally confessed the murder of Dr. James G. Littlefield but, after accepting a life sentence, named Carroll as the "real slayer" and charged the deposed law of-ficer intimidated him into "taking the rap."

Defense Counsel Chapman introduced a 101-pound boy in an effort to blast the state's contention Dwyer could not have carried the slain doctor from his home. As spectators in the crowded courtroom stood on tiptoe 16-yearold Philip Soucier Jr., thrice picked up a 150-pound witness and carried him 20 feet to a window and back to the witness stand. Soucier stripped to the waist at the direction of Chapman and faced the jury to show his frail physique. Only last week Dwyer similarly bared his torso as proof he was unable to life a heavy body. Dwyer weighed 120 pounds.

Special Prosecutor Ingalls thundered, coaxed and even pleaded he had no tutor but merely saw the hold three or four years ago at a beach. He never had prac-

With Soucier's testimony, Chapman rested his case and court adjourned until tomorrow, when debuttal testimony will be heard. The biggest crowd of the trial now in its ninth day, converged on the old, red-brick courthouse today. The courtroom was filled at 7:20 a. m. (Atlanta time), more than three hours before the scheduled opening of the trial.

Carroll's pretty 18-year-old daughter, Barbara, Dwyer's for-mer sweetheart, wore a nile green dress and sat with her mother in the spectators' section.
